PRINCIPAL PIERRE ORBE REPORTS ON THE STATE OF DEWITT CLINTON HIGH SCHOOL

Dear DWC Alumni,

I hope everyone is safe and healthy during this challenging Covid 19 pandemic. This is the time of the year when we are normally celebrating college acceptances. This year's seniors have received acceptances to top universities including: Dartmouth, Stanford, Columbia, Cornell and Vassar. We even have one senior who has been waitlisted to Harvard. This is also the time in the year when we would celebrate our improved graduation rate, anticipated to be above 83% (previous 4 graduation rates are 48%, 50%, 69%, 78%). These would have been among the biggest headlines to recall for this school year. But due to this outbreak, it's hard to appreciate the impact of our teachers' efforts and the implementation of our SAT prep program, Syracuse College courses, and Project Lead the Way Courses. The Corona virus has changed the experiences many expected during this time. Senior trip, 10th and 11th grade overnight college trips, spring PSAL sports, and just about everything has been cancelled. State Regents Exams, where DWC used to struggle to achieve high passing rates, will most likely be cancelled. And this was the year we were going to break 75% passing in the five big exams. But there are greater tragedies occurring right now. This virus is causing the death of many individuals worldwide.

Pierre Orbe
Principal

School buildings have been closed, but remote learning has officially begun. While many schools are in desperate need of technology to service their students or training to support their teachers in learning Google Classroom, DWC has neither issue. We have been preparing for implementing a five-phase instructional process that relies on one-to-one technology usage to help every learner develop from their current starting point. Its ultimate goal is to develop self-regulated learners. Said simply, we are ahead of the curve.

As many schools now scramble to teach their staff how to use Google Classroom, we have been using Google Classroom during the school in most classes to support a very specific instructional model. This model relies on students entering class and completing a google form quiz that helps the teacher see in real time which resources students actually need. So rather than teaching everyone the basics, students who are ahead can move on to their skill aligned materials. Students who need foundational support will receive it.

This model allows for all students to spend about 10-15 minutes on developing from their starting point, before the teacher brings the class back together to focus on the group learning task intended to support real life application.

President's Letter

I am pleased to inform you that “the state of Clinton” is improving significantly. Each year’s statistics bring us farther out of the woods and closer to regaining our traditional title as a School of Excellence.

The Alumni Association wants to thank Principal Pierre Orbe and his staff for their commitment to DWC and its students. During this school year, the Association has worked to help DWC boost its enrollment for September 2020. We have provided great looking and informative literature in the form of the DWC magazine and class folders, both as ways to introduce possible incoming students to see what DWC has to offer. We thank Gerard Pelisson for creating the magazine and folders.

The spread of the coronavirus is seriously impacting our country. In the name of caution...and the law, we must cancel the May 2020 Alumni Dinner and its Homecoming Day followup. One thought we have is to honor the Class of 1970 when we honor the Class of 1971 at the 2021 dinner.

On a sad note, I regret to inform you that a long time Board member, Joel Weisvogel '69, has passed away. He was always there when needed and will be sorely missed. Please read our In Memoriam to Joel on page 13.

The bottom line is we have been using Google Classroom as a model in our phase 2 of 5 for instruction. This means that currently we have students completing assignments and engaging students in virtual learning via applications such as Zoom and Google Meet. While there are challenges, we have our Guidance and Good Shepherds CBO supporting via phone outreach. Our school aides and secretaries are tracking the completion levels for assignments and mastery levels on quizzes. Though we are not under one roof, we are working in teams to support one another and our students.

Our current challenges are scaling back the work that we might normally expect to complete in a single lesson, since we are noticing students cannot complete it at the same pace without a teacher. This makes sense and shows the incredible and irreplaceable value of our instructors. They have been on the front lines of learning this technology and designing instruction to meet the demands of our students.

We are adapting to support students with a new model that will ensure students are not overwhelmed with assignments and spending more time actively learning. We call it ABC Learning and it will combine block and remote learning.

When we look back at this time in our history, we will remember that DWC was leading the way with preparedness for remote learning and adapting new methods for supporting true learning from a distance.

Despite this good news, we should not forget the many who are suffering or lost loved ones due to the CoronaVirus. This has hit close to home for many of us, and my condolences go out to all.

It's hard to speak about all the advances that will be happening at DWC with all this going on and the support we hope to receive from the many alumni who have come through this great institution. We will be welcoming students back eventually with hallways that have an updated

- Updated paint job (Though not a skim coat due to financial restraints)
- Digital Bulletin Boards that will replace the old versions
- School logos and famous alumni visual branding in the hallways
- A Wall of Fame celebrating great Clinton alumni achievements. This will extend from the first floor opposite the current student historic honor roll
- A Go Fund Me page effort in support of the Stan Lee Performing Arts Center meant to improve the school auditorium (more coming in April)

I hope to elaborate on these efforts next month and seek support from all of you who want to further see your alma mater return to greatness and beyond.

I hope that everyone is safe and healthy during this difficult time. We will endure and we will overcome.

Warmest regards,

Introducing Present-Day Students to Our DeWitt Clinton World

The question has been asked for decades by students at DeWitt Clinton High School. “Why don’t they teach us about all our famous alumni?” Principal Pierre Orbe is preparing to do just that. But not with lists of names. He wants students to see the achievements. Thus, large banners, some at 15 ft x 3.5 ft, are being composed and will be placed in appropriate areas of the school. Students (and everyone else) will marvel at the achievements of Clintonites in culture; business, industry, and labor; law, government, and politics; history and journalism; religion and education; health, science, and environment; military service; community; and sports.

On this page is the banner on alumni in television (7 ft x 3.5 ft). On the next page are sections of the banners on science and medicine (complete 16 ft x 3.5 ft) and movies (complete 9.3 feet x 3.5 feet). Another banner will include only comic book characters created by DWC alumni. And how about a monstrous banner to show off Clintonites at sport!

Do you know the Clinton connection for the six images—comics and sports—immediately below? (The connections are given at the bottom of this page.)

PAYING HOMAGE TO A GREAT AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL

Still they come, as they have since the opening of DeWitt Clinton High School in the Bronx in 1929: foreign dignitaries, documentary makers, C-Span and PBS programmers, historians and journalists, children and grandchildren of alumni and the curious—all eager to step inside the Castle on the Parkway. On March 2, 2020, two more names were added to the list of visitors as the school welcomed photographer Dana Frank, daughter of Norman Frank '42, and French artist Jean-Louis Mast, who is preparing a book on Stan Lee's life with emphasis on his days as a Clinton student. Their shared visit was no coincidence, as Norman and Stan were friends at Clinton and for all the years that followed, and Jean-Louis will be including Norman in his book on Stan.

Like so many visitors before them, Dana and Jean-Louis were taken by the majesty of the building. In the auditorium, they were treated to a chronology of the great events it hosted, from opening day ceremonies and composer Richard Rodgers conducting the school orchestra to honoring Hall of Fame basketballers Dolph Schayes and Nate Archibald and present-day gifted students. They traveled up to the tower where Stan Lee worked on the Magpie and then searched the archives of the Clinton News in the library where Dana found a 1942 News article about her father. The two visitors enjoyed viewing the school together, but they did have their separate reasons for being there.

— Gerard Pelisson

A Daughter Cherishes Her Father's High School

"Thrilled," said Dana Frank, as she arrived at the front steps of DWC on March 2. Her tour guide, Gerard Pelisson, led the way into her father's high school. As a student, her father was Norman Fetbrod. Later he became Norman Frank, a man of many accomplishments.

Dana Frank

Dana Frank is a woman of many accomplishments. As you will see, it is a family trait. Much of Dana's world is focused on photography. As a lover of music, she first used her camera to document the careers of the Rolling Stones, Lenny Kravitz, Matchbox 20, Tyrese, Bobby Short, KISS, David Bowie, Stone Temple Pilots, Julian Lennon & Velvet Revolver. She can still be found backstage, shooting onstage at concerts and major events such as the Superbowl, the Grammy's and the MTV Award, and if you want to see her photos, you might just find them in Rolling Stone, Time, Newsweek, Ocean Drive and Glamour.

An important family trait is her dedication to helping people in need. She raises money for charitable causes, especially St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, where her grandfather was on the original founding Board of Directors. And like her father, she is keenly aware of what is going on around her and is always of a mind to fight the good fight.

Her father's name at DeWitt Clinton High School was Norman Fetbrod, class of 1942. After serving during WW II as a pilot in the U.S. Army Air Force, Frank was attracted to advertising. By the late 1940s, he had moved into television advertising but was soon drawn to wanting to play a major part in the new medium. Producing and directing became his dream and he had the opportunity when he was hired to do both with the CBS variety series Star of the Family (1950-1952). He was also a producer for Wide Wide World, an Emmy-nominated documentary series, hosted by Dave Garroway, which pioneered the use of live remotes from around the world. He was a founding member of the New York-based Television Academy, which was established in 1955 by Ed Sullivan. In 1956, he produced and directed The Jonathan Winters Show on NBC.

Norman Fetbrod,
1942 Clintonian.

Norman Frank,
1969 candidate
for NYC mayor.

By the mid 1960s, Frank was more in front of the television camera than behind it, becoming "the voice of the P.B.A."—the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association. In 1966, he engineered a campaign on behalf of the P.B.A. that helped it successfully thwart an attempt by Mayor John V. Lindsay to create a civilian complaint review board. Frank embarked on his own mayoral campaign in 1969, but was unable to oust Lindsay.

Norman Frank would die in 2007, but he had plenty of life left in him when he moved to Miami Beach in 1979. There he served as chairman, vice-chairman or president of the Chamber of Commerce, Planning Board and Budget Committee.

Dana Frank has inherited her father's zest for life. Along with being a TIME/LIFE photographer, she values causes that seek justice and preserve the record of how we got to this point in time. Without a doubt, she will return to the Castle on the Parkway. She loves the place.

Crossing the Ocean to Visit Stan Lee's High School

As French artist Jean-Louis Mast exited DeWitt Clinton High School at the end of his tour and looked up at its facade, he said that if for no other reason than its great contribution of comic strip artists and writers (see right), DeWitt Clinton deserves to be cherished as a great American school.

Here is Mast's reason in his own words for visiting the Castle on the Parkway:

Artist Jean-Louis Mast arriving at DWCHS on March 2, 2020, to begin his research on Stan Lee's high school years. Below is his cherished photograph with Stan Lee.

My comicbook project "Fathers of Marvel Comics" will be in three parts and focus on the lives of the founders of Marvel Comics: Martin Goodman and Stan Lee. Part 1 will take place between 1922 and 1940, the first 18 years of Stan Lee, showing his early life during what were difficult times. Obviously, in the comicbook, I'll show a lot of DWC High School from 1936 till 1939, when Stan graduated. I want the reader to feel as if he was a student at that time, which is why I had to visit the school, to get photo references and information from the Library Archives. Now that I've seen with my own eyes that legendary school, I'll be able to do a better job, I feel.

Non-exhaustive list of what you will find in the main chapter devoted to DWC HS: Stan and his Magpie publicity staff, Stan at the 1939 New York World's Fair with his teachers and schoolmates, "McBeth" played by the WPA Federal Theater Project at the DWC HS Auditorium, the making of the History of the World mural... And more!

To a Clintonite, all that Mast said above has to be exciting. He is back in France now completing his book for publication. We should all be thankful to him for his desire to pay tribute to Stan Lee and Stan's high school.

As Stan would say, "Excelsior!"

Here you can see Jean-Louis Mast's formidable talent as an illustrator. He has shared with us some of the art that will appear in his book on Stan Lee.

Ralph Lauren '57 announced on March 26th that the Ralph Lauren Corporate Foundation will be donating $10 million to help those affected by the Covid-19 virus. "Now more than ever," he said at the time of the announcement, "in this time of need, supporting each other has become our mission." The funds will be split across different causes, including the Emergency Assistance Foundation, the World Health Organization's COVID-19 Solidarity Response Fund, and more. On March 27th, the Foundation announced that Ralph Lauren will also start making 250,000 masks and 25,000 isolation gowns in the United States.

Edward Remen '63 discovered the game of racquetball in the 1970s. His excellent hand-eye coordination and superb athleticism led him to 42 national titles—both singles and doubles—throughout the 1980s. In 1991, he was inducted into the USA Racquetball National Hall of Fame as both a player and contributor to the game. He was then invited to coach the USA National Team in 2001 before taking the courts of NC State University. He is currently the director of Racquet Sports for the University Recreation Department and instructs racquetball, tennis, badminton and his latest discovery: pickleball.

Guido Loyola '68 retired on December 31, 2019 after three decades on the Schenectady bench. His public service included working in all three branches of city government. He started as a City Council member in 1983 and later joined the city Corporation Counsel's Office, serving as deputy corporation counsel until Dec. 1989 when he was appointed to the bench. He worked as an acting County Court and Family Court judge, and served as the supervising judge for city courts for the Fourth Judicial District.

Ricardo Nazario-Colón '84 is a poet, artist, higher education administrator, author, language teacher, and former United States Marine. And as if that were not enough, he presently serves as inclusive executive and chief diversity officer for Western Carolina University and as chair of the (North Carolina) Governor's Advisory Council on Hispanic/Latino Affairs. As a Clinton student, he was a member of the track team, winning the NYS championship in the 3200 meter relay and the NYC championship in the 2 mile run. He was also on the Clintonian and Clinton News staffs.

Ameera Hassan '18 is a sophomore at SUNY New Paltz majoring in marketing and manufacturing. She was named to the Dean's List for the fall 2019 semester. As a member of the National Association of Black Accountants for the 2019-2020 academic year, she joined in hosting a professionalism workshop on last November 19. The workshop focused on educating students, especially students of color, about the importance of the various aspects of business etiquette to prepare them for life after graduation. It included tips on how to perfect their elevator pitches, interview strategies, food etiquette, and professional attire. Ameera was senior class president at DWC.

David Levy '47—Glee club. Thank you DWC for providing an excellent education. I served as a teacher, guidance counsellor, assistant principal, principal, and deputy superintendent in the New York City school system 1951-1990.

Sol Gothard '48—First recipient of the “Sol Gothard Lifetime Achievement Award” established and named in his honor by the National Association of Forensic Social Work. He will also give a keynote workshop at the organization’s national conference in New Orleans in June 2020. The program is titled: “Reflections on Social Work, the Law, and Other Stuff.”

Ernest Reit '49—Arista, chorus. Good wishes, and great good luck.

George Darsa '51—Retired attorney. Six grandchildren, of which two are engaged. Life is still exciting.

William Ingwerson '52—Thirty-five years in the New York City Police Department, retired sergeant.

Stanley A. Goldman MD '53—Orchestra, band, Clinton News, Arista. I find Principal Orbe’s letter inspiring and very well stated. I wish him luck in his efforts to keep the school on an upward trajectory in enrollment and achievement. (As for The Bronx: USA, it was an) excellent TV show comparing life in the 40s/50s with the current generation—very inspiring and kudos to the students—young and old.

Michael Brier '55—1953-54-55 varsity basketball - co-capt. 1955. 1954 & 1955 varsity baseball. Play tennis now and watch my grandchildren spend my money. (It’s all good!!)

Herbert LeShay '56—Service league, senior chorus, honor society, Spanish club. Former high school teacher, assistant principal, principal and district office administrator. Retired happily in Florida.

Lew Aaronson '57—Lou Katz’s Squad X, handball team. Pilot: U.S. Air Force/Air Force Reserve, Continental Airlines.

Lawrence Grossman '57—Clinton News, Clintonian. I went to City College (majoring in chemistry) and later received a PhD in biochemistry and genetics at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in the Bronx. I then went to the other coast for a postdoctoral stint (at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena.) Afterwards I joined the faculty of the Wayne State University School of Medicine in Detroit, where I am now the Henry L. Brasza professor and Director of the Center for Molecular Medicine and Genetics. Since I mostly write for a living (grant applications and reports, research publications), my early experience of writing for Clinton publications (I remember Lou Simon was the most admired faculty advisor of the Clinton News) has continued to serve me well these many years later.

Allen Jacobson '57—Library squad. Retired partner of Washington Analysis.

Peter Korn '57—Dean’s squad, physical education squad, service squad. Serving as hearing officer for Westchester County, NY, in civil service cases; labor arbitrator.

Arthur S. Weinstein '57—Service league; manager, cross country and track and field. Looking forward to 65th reunion.

Norman S. Sider '58—Clinton News. After earning a law degree, I worked 13 years for state, federal and not-for-profit organizations dedicated to civil rights and community relations, then for 27 years worked for a major stock brokerage firm.

Carmine Magazino '59—Clinton News, football. Ever grateful for the great teachers and friends made over 60 years ago—especially remember Lou Simon and the Clinton News—a hall of fame teacher in my book!

Michelle Steiner '60—Math team. Counterintelligence special agent, U.S. Army (22 years) followed by software quality assurance test engineer (12 years, eight of which were with Apple).

Norman Alvy '62—I’m looking forward to receiving the paper edition of the newsletter for alumni.

Alan Frishman '62—At DWC, swimming and GO. Retired professor of economics at Hobart & Wm. Smith College after 41 years.

Robert H. Benna '63—Recently watched a show called The Bronx, USA (HBO on demand) about a group of guys from Clinton—class of 1949—visiting the school and the borough. Great show that all DWC alumni should watch. As for me, still playing bad golf, but life is good.

Fred Finkelberg '64—Key club, AV squad, cheerleader, Clinton News business staff, class night show stage manager, camera club, parking lot squad, 65th anniversary dinner usher, gym squad. Retired federal bank examiner.

Greg Ohanesian '64—Cross country and track teams, marching band, P.E. squad. Still practicing law in S.C., elected to the S.C. Bar’s House of Delegates. USMC 1 May 1967/30 April 1969—Semper Fi Col. Randall USMC ('92). Very impressed with Sydney Valerio '99. Go Governors!

Michael Schwartz '64—As assistant coach, led Monmouth University men’s tennis team to fourth straight conference championship, fourth appearance in Top 64 D1 NCAA’s.

Michael R. Lewis '66—At DWC, marching drill band, track and field team, cross country team. U.S. Air Force (1968-1972) Vietnam 1969-1970; Ohio State track and field team 1966-1968; Howard University 1972-74 BBA magna cum laude; Cornell University (1974-76) MBA.

Roger Siegel '66—Squad P and GO squad. Active membership and leadership in the Knights of Khorassan, a fraternal organization.

Books by or about Clintonites

Hotel Mavens: Volume 3

– by Stanley Turkel '41

My long-time preoccupation with hotel history reveals one continuous strand: the achievements of unique entrepreneurs who created singular hotels one at a time. These pioneers were not “hotel men” by subsequent definition. They did not attend hotel schools because there were none until 1924 with the creation of the Cornell University School of Hotel Administration. Most of them did not grow up in the hotel business but became successful because of their varied on-the-job training experiences, unexpected opportunities and business acumen. Their tradition-breaking vision and single-minded ambition led them to create iconic hotels. — Stanley Turkel.

Clintonites will especially enjoy the account of how Clintonites Larry Tisch '39 and Bob Tisch (one year) rose to great prominence owning the Loew's hotel chain. — Gerard Pelisson

Swim Move (Burnside Series Book 10) Kindle Edition

– by David Chill '73

When an old friend from high school shows up in P.I. Burnside's office for help, neither have any idea that this case will spiral into fraud, kidnapping and murder. But as Burnside begins looking into his friend's beautiful celebrity daughter, he uncovers more and more people who have a dispute with her – and a reason to inflict harm. Once again, Burnside's investigation takes readers on a harrowing journey through the best and worst of Los Angeles. Burnside navigates his way with a little help from some pro football players and is forced to work around detectives from multiple police departments, who would prefer this case would just go away. And as he unravels the mystery, he and his wife Gail must make a critical decision on their future. The series reaches uncharted territory when Burnside gets a legendary meeting with the LAPD's Chief of Police – an interaction the Chief would like to forget!

Napoleon Ham '80 (March 2020)
Louis Weisberg, Retired faculty (February 21, 2020)

Sanford Buchsbaum '45 was an advertising and marketing executive. He began his long, successful career as a watch band salesman. From there, he went on to hold many esteemed positions in advertising and marketing. He was executive vice president worldwide of advertising and marketing at Revlon, Inc., and chairman of Stevens & Buchsbaum, an advertising agency he founded.

Sanford Buchsbaum died in Connecticut on December 13, 2019.

Kenneth Giniger '35 attended the 100th anniversary celebration (2013) of the Clin-ton News held in the library of the school. He was always a proud "Newser." Following service in the U. S. Army during World War II, he turned to publishing. As head of Hawthorn Books in the 1960s, he produced many books that appealed to Catholics, i.e., works by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen.

Kenneth Giniger died in New York City on April 26, 2019, two months after celebrating his 100th birthday.

Peter De Luca '45 worked three jobs during high school to support his family. Upon graduation, he volunteered for the U.S. Merchant Marines, ferrying American troops and Japanese prisoners in the Pacific. He graduated number one in his New York Law School class and, years later, was a trustee of the school. He practiced law for over 60 years and capped his career as managing partner of Kaye, Scholer, retiring at the young age of 88.

Peter De Luca died in New York on March 24, 2020.

Meyer Ackerman '41 operated movie theaters that, long before the Internet and home videos, brought hard-to-find films to audiences in and around New York City. He and his partners owned, among others, the Devon Theater in the Bronx, the Carnegie Hall Cinema and the 68th Street Playhouse in Manhattan, and the Scarsdale Fine Arts Cinema. Perhaps his greatest success came in 1984 when he introduced American audiences to the South African film The Gods Must Be Crazy, which ran at the 68th Street Playhouse for 20 months.

A soldier in the U. S. Army during World War II, Meyer Ackerman passed away in White Plains, New York, on October 21, 2019.

Edward Morrison '46 was born November 6, 1928, the day that Herbert Hoover was elected president of the United States. Being born on an historic day, it was only right that his life's calling would be as a history teacher. From 1954 to 1986, he filled his "scholars" at DWC with a love of history... and a love of life. He assigned each student a number, and if a student's final mark was 97 or higher, the student's number was retired. His great sense of humor uplifted his colleagues in the bad times and his commitment to his "scholars" inspired them to be the best at all times.

An army Korean War veteran, Edward Morrison passed away on Long Island on March 23, 2020.

Nicholas Tsoucalas '44 served in the U. S. Navy during World War II and the Korean War. Between the wars, he earned his law degree from New York Law School. After several terms on the city and state bench, he was appointed in 1985 to the United States Court of International Trade in New York City. He took senior status in 1996 and held it until his death on March 22, 2018.

Allen Zagarell '59 earned his Doctorate at East Berlin University. He taught anthropology at Western Michigan University until retirement. During his tenure he served as President of the teachers union. He headed expeditions into the mountains of India and many South Asian countries. He was a life long advocate for civil and union rights.

Allen Zagarell died in Kalamazoo, MI, on September 10, 2019.

Allan Gerson '62 held notable legal positions in the Justice Department but his response to the bombing of Pan Am Flight 103 over Lockerbie, Scotland, in 1988 will be his mark in history. Gerson led the push that got Congress to amend the sovereign immunity law in 1996. The change allowed citizens to sue a country in an American court for human rights violations if the State Department had designated that country a sponsor of terrorism. Attorney Gerson represented the bombing victims' families in a suit against Libya for its complicity in the bombing. In 2002, Libya agreed to a $2.7 billion settlement, or $10 million per victim. Allan Gerson passed away on November 30, 2019.

Arnold Obey '64 had it said of him, by classmate Michael Schwartz '64, that he was "a great athlete, great husband, great father, great friend." His accomplishments were many: basketball champion at DWC (1963), Basketball Hall of Famer for Wagner College (scoring 1,000 points) and basketball coach at Staten Island Academy for eight seasons. For more than two decades, he served as principal of PS 31 in Staten Island. And then there were the marathons, running the streets of New York City for 38 consecutive years. Arnold Obey died of Covid-19 on March 22, 2020 while on a trip to Puerto Rico.

Joel Weisvogel '69 served for many years on the DWC Alumni Board before his death on January 13, 2020. No job was too big or too small to do for his alma mater. He regularly accompanied students on leadership weekends, worked the food grill at home football games, and showed up to help at just about every Clinton event. Fortunately, he managed to squeeze in time to be an independent agent for AFLAC. The Alumni Association would also like to share one more example of Joel's devotion to Clinton. In his will, Joel left a considerable donation to the Association to help it continue to serve the DeWitt Clinton Community.

Louis Weisberg, retired faculty member, passed away at home in New York City on February 21, 2020 after a brief illness. Teaching earth science and photography for 32 years brought his induction into the DWC Faculty Hall of Honor in 2018. He valued every student but understood that their cleverness did not always reflect godliness. Thus, noticing a sharp increase of students needing to go to the bathroom, he introduced a room pass that was a large rock several feet tall (shown in the photograph). He loved to travel, visiting over 100 countries. For sure, he brought his camera.

Lest We Forget Their Service to Country

Martin Goldfarb '41 served in World War II with the 376th HBG 515 squadron U. S. Army Air Force. Richard Stanley Blum '53 served in the U. S. Marines for two years rising to the rank of sergeant. A highly skilled marksman, he competed in military competitions representing his company.

Douglas Bernard Kehoe '62 was killed in action in Vietnam on December 12, 1968. Perhaps many in the DeWitt Clinton Community, at the time, did not know of his sacrifice. That would change when on March 10, 2020, Barry Heyman '62 received an email from a Vietnam memorial organization seeking a photograph of Douglas Bernard Kehoe, Barry's classmate at Clinton.

The organization has established a Wall of Faces to display photographs of all 58,318 Vietnam casualties. Only 244 of the fallen still needed a photo, and Douglas Kehoe was one of the missing. Barry supplied Kehoe's senior photograph from the 1962 Clintonian. You can see the Wall of Faces at <https://www.vvmf.org/Wall-of-Faces/27393/DOUGLAS-B-KEHOE/>

The DWC Community pays tribute to its fallen hero, Douglas Bernard Kehoe, class of 1962.
